DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the magnetic at right angles to each other as recited in claim 6 and the magnetic field vectors passing through the rotor in chordal like zones as recited in claim 8 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered. In the drawing description on page 4 of the specification mention is made of a FIG. 15 showing field vectors. There is no FIG. 15 in the drawings submitted to the Patent Office.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-3, 9 and 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Burgbacher 4,370,580 in view of Burgbacher 3,775,626. Burgbacher '580 discloses an electric motor with a rotor having an electrically continuous conductive loop as described in column 1 lines 41-45, a stator as shown in figure 2 but does not disclose an electric circuit for energizing and de-energizing the field windings. However, Burgbacher '626 discloses an electric circuit in column 4 lines 1-8. Since the '580 and '626 devices are both from the same field of endeavor, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to have utilized an electric circuit for energizing windings in order to make the rotor turn.

Art Unit: 2834

3. In regard to claim 2, see '580 figure 2.
4. In regard to claim 3, see '626 column 4 lines 1-8.
5. Claims 4-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Burgbacher '580 as modified by Burgbacher '626 in view of Bedford and Williams. '560 as modified by '580 discloses the AC motor but does not disclose powering the motor by square waves. However, Bedford teaches powering a reluctance motor by square wave voltage in column 1 lines 4-9 and Williams teaches powering a squirrel cage motor by square wave voltage in column 1 lines 7-23. Since Bedford, Williams and '580 as modified by '626 are all from the same field of endeavor, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to have used square wave voltage to power the motor of '580 as modified by '626.
6. In regard to claim 5, see Williams column 1 lines 7-23.
7. In regard to claim 6, see Bedford figure 1a, which shows a four pole motor. Such a motor will inherently produce magnetic field vectors at right angles for coils 16a and 17a.
8. In regard to claim 7, see Williams column 1 lines 7-23. The supply frequency f controls the position of the magnetic field vector to regulate speed and torque.
9. In regard to claim 8, see Bedford figure 2a, which shows a six pole motor.

Allowable Subject Matter

10. Claim 10 is allowed.

11. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art of record does not disclose or teach a motor having a control circuit where the power signal varies in amplitude in a cyclic manner corresponding to the speed of rotation of the motor.
